Mr. and Mrs. David Charles Bell held a reception last night in honor of the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage, which occurred in 1840 at St. Andrews, Scotland, the land of the former's birth. The family mansion, 1521 Thirty-fifth Street, in which they also celebrated their golden wedding ten years ago, was beautifully decorated by the loving hands of their daughters, the spacious parlors being ablaze with gorgeous autumn flowers and a very forest of palms. The host and hostess received in the first room, the latter wearing black Irish poplin, with soft touches of lace. The members of the family gathered about them included their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wynne, of England; Dr. Chester Bell, Dr. and Mrs. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, and Miss Bell, each of whom assisted graciously in the entertainment of their guests. Father Time has dealt so gently with the venerable pair that as they stood together, smiling and strong, with the happiness of a long life spent in noble deeds, those who congratulated them felt that Providence might indeed grant their wish that they might assemble again at a diamond wedding fifteen years from now.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the children and grand-children gathered at the home and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Bell a handsome set of candelabra, a mirror, and a clock with Westminster chimes.

RED CROSS BOARD MEETS.

A Message From Miss Barton Regarding Help in Galveston.

The board of control of the American National Red Cross held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at its headquarters, corner First and B Streets southeast. B. H. Warner, Vice President, presided.

Among the members present were Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mueser, Third Vice President and Counsel; William J. Platter, Treasurer; Col. W. H. C. Kaufman, of Charleston, S. C.; H. B. P. Macfarland, and Judge E. C. Foster.

A report was read from Miss Barton, of the National President, of the work of the Red Cross at Galveston. She stated that the Red Cross had been received most cordially by the mayor and officials of the city, with whom she was working not only as the president of the Red Cross but as a member of the city council. Miss Barton says of the Relief Committee at Galveston:

"Their business matters and the details have been as open to us as to themselves, and I desire to repeat here what I have so often had occasion to say, that I have never met a body of men working in matters of heart and sympathy among whom there existed such uniform co-operation and singleness of purpose. While individual in character, with diverse views of their own, the best method is found and settled upon and perfect harmony prevails."

The distribution of relief has been turned over to the Red Cross, which has formed an auxiliary among the ladies of Galveston, and Miss Barton states it as her belief that there will be permanently organized a large and efficient auxiliary. Reference is also made to the Red Cross orphanage established and now under the management of Mr. Herbert Lewis, formerly of Washington, and Miss Alice Spradlin, of Topeka, Kan. Miss Barton also recounted the acceptance of the Manila Home for Soldiers and Sailors which was tendered to the American National Red Cross by the officials and leading citizens of Manila.

Letters were also read from Miss Protz, formerly associated with the Red Cross in Cuba, and from Gen. W. T. Bennett, of Tientsin, China, at the American Mission on August 19. General Bennett reports the bringing of supplies to hospitals at that point on the 24 of August, when the sick were of necessity on common commensal diets. He stated that the thanks of the country are due to the Red Cross for the bringing of the supplies to the hospitals at that point on the 24 of August, when the sick were of necessity on common commensal diets. He stated that the thanks of the country are due to the Red Cross for the bringing of the supplies to the hospitals at that point on the 24 of August, when the sick were of necessity on common commensal diets.

A report was also received from Mr. Frank D. Higgins, of New York City, general manager of the twentieth century watch meetings in behalf of the Red Cross, to be held in several of the large cities on December 31 next. Mr. Higgins is now abroad procuring from the reigning monarchs and other distinguished personages in Europe greetings on the dawn of the twentieth century, to be held secretly and securely until the evening of December 31, when they will be allowed to fly over the wires to the cities where the watch meetings are to be held and read to the audiences.
